Dear As Our Own Family,

I write with the utmost gratefulness to the Lord for enabling As Our Own to stand in the gap on behalf of the most vulnerable children in India. Children whose lives are slated to be systematically destroyed by evil day in and day out. The darkness of child trafficking and slavery is one of the most heinous crimes committed against children.

When God sees a 3-year-old on the verge of being destroyed, he calls out to his people to rescue, protect and care for her. Escaping that danger is not up to the child. It's the responsibility of the people of God.

As we rescue each child from the darkness we understand that just as important is the next step of rescuing her into our family—for life. Our foundational philosophy is to care for each child as our very own. This has been the most critical part of the care—basing it on identity and not sympathy. This has created a sense of security, love and belonging for each of our daughters that enables them to live lives of great empowerment and freedom.

You can see this reflected in every hug and in each tear wiped away. You can see it in every trip to school and in each test taken, in the plays performed, the crafts created and the medals won on the sports ground. It's there when we drop off each daughter at college and you can hear it over every long distance phone call. It's reflected in college graduations, each walk down the aisle with our daughters and when we welcome grandchildren!

The joy of caring for our daughters in Jesus' name is indescribable.

We are grateful beyond words for God's faithfulness over the past seven years since the start of the organization, and we are excited about all that he has in store for the road ahead! Each day you, as our most faithful supporters, make this possible through your prayerful generosity. Thank you for walking with us in caring for each child God puts in our care—As Our Own—for life!

Sincerely,

Ralph Borde
CEO

CHILDREN IN CRISIS

44 million children in India are vulnerable to abuse, exploitation and enslavement.

25.7M

There are 25.7 million orphans in India, the most in the world.

1.2M

There are 1.2 million child prostitutes in India.

47%

In India 47% of young children are malnourished and girls are impacted more than boys.

25%

One-quarter of the world's childhood deaths before the age of 5 happen in India.

This crisis is overwhelming, but it's even worse for girls.

Even before they're born there's a battle being waged against women. Girls in India face abortion, infanticide, neglect and rape.

50M

In India 50 million girls have been lost in the past century to female infanticide and foeticide.

12S

Every 12 seconds a girl is aborted in India.

66%

In India 66% of high school aged girls are not in school.

22 MIN

Every 22 minutes a rape is reported in India.

The United Nations calls India "the most dangerous place in the world to be a girl."

BORN INTO DANGER

The crisis for children is the worst in the dangerous slums and red-light districts. The slums are home to 64 million people in India. But it gets even darker in the red-light district where trafficking of minors is a $1 billion industry in Mumbai alone.

Whether born in the slums or the red-light district, these girls face a lifetime of danger.

A GIRL IN THE HIGH-RISK SLUMS IS:

BORN A BURDEN

A daughter means pressure for parents to arrange a marriage and come up with a dowry. One woman dies every hour in dowry related deaths in India.

DOOMED TO LIFELONG POVERTY

Children in extreme poverty are often forced to skip school in order to help provide a living for the family. This results in generational cycles of poverty and abuse.

PLAGUED BY EXTREME MALNUTRITION

Up to one-third of the world's under-nourished children are Indian. Girls are more affected than boys.

LIKELY TO FACE RAPE

Sexual violence is pervasive in India, with a rape reported every 22 minutes.

POWERLESS TO KEEP HER CHILDREN FROM EXTREME POVERTY

A girl who grows up in poverty has her own children and never finds a way out. The cycle of poverty can be endless.

HEADED FOR EARLY MARRIAGE AND LIFELONG MARITAL ABUSE

Almost half (47%) of the girls in India get married before 18, often resulting in a lifetime of marital abuse.

A GIRL IN THE RED-LIGHT DISTRICT IS:

BORN A COMMODITY

Brothel owners see a baby as a future sex slave, a source of profit rather than a person. The trafficking of children in Mumbai alone is a billion dollar industry.

FORCED INTO SLAVERY BY HER 8TH BIRTHDAY

Girls are pushed into prostitution earlier every year. She'll be enslaved as early as 7 years old.

PRONE TO SEVERE SICKNESS

Sexually transmitted diseases are treated poorly or left untreated, wreaking havoc on the girls' physical health. 60% of girls in Mumbai's red-light district have HIV.

LIKELY TO HAVE 6 TO 7 ABORTIONS PER YEAR

Brothel owners don't bother with birth control and pregnancy is common. Since pregnancy is bad for business, forced abortions are the norm.

POWERLESS TO KEEP HER CHILDREN FROM SLAVERY

95% of girls born in the red-light district become enslaved.

HEADED FOR AN EARLY DEATH

Life expectancy in Mumbai's red-light district is 35 years of age.

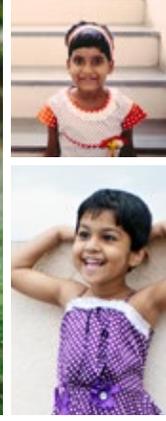

The Light

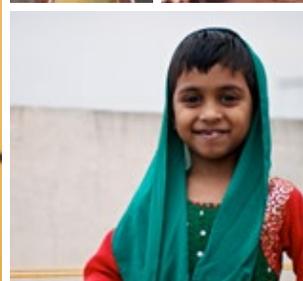

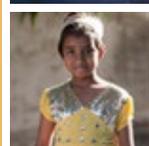

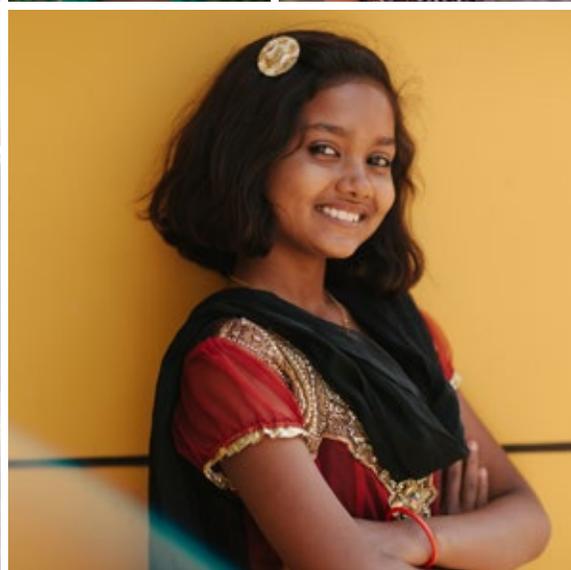

What do we do in the face of such darkness?

God calls us to see each child in our care as our own. When we make that a reality, we shine the light of hope into the darkness.

Meet our daughters...

We Are As Our Own

We are a Christ-based, community driven movement in India that rescues and protects children from slavery and exploitation and cares for them as our own for life.

Our work is done through...

PREVENTION

We prevent the spread of darkness in the community.

RESCUE

We rescue girls from danger, death and despair, and into a family.

AFTERCARE

We care for each girl as our own, for life.

Prevention

Abuse, exploitation and slavery cause lifelong harm. The best way to defeat these horrors is to stop them before they can start. That means prevention.

PREVENTION STARTS WITH BEING PRESENT

The crisis for children in India is darkest in the slums and red-light districts. These communities are ill equipped to halt the cycles of neglect, exploitation, abuse and enslavement.

So we have a presence in these communities, empowering people and bringing hope. We have a network of 19 Lighthouse Centers working in 97 different communities, as well as our leadership development program through Hope College.

We support these communities and families as our own, before trouble sets in.

50K

50,000 children go missing
every year in India's slums

Our Lighthouse pastors watch for families—and especially girls—in need before a bad situation gets worse.

LIGHTHOUSE CENTERS

Much of our prevention work in these communities happens through our Lighthouse Centers. These are churches making a difference on the ground. They offer spiritual support, physical care, education, community development, health care and more.

HOPE COLLEGE

At Hope College we develop strong local leaders, rooted in biblical truth. We train them to be community leaders in these tough places and to reach the vulnerable children in crisis.

CHANGING SOCIETY

By building up these local communities we can tackle the root of the problem. We can strengthen and support families, marriages and children long before they come to a breaking point. Our investment in leaders who invest in their community produces more leaders who can help their community—and that fosters new societal patterns free of exploitation and enslavement.

The leadership conferences we hold several times per year give local community leaders a chance to grow.

Rescue

No matter how much prevention work we do, rescue is still needed. And that rescue can happen because we're present in the midst of the darkness. We have a presence established in the red-light districts and slums through our community relationships and Lighthouse Centers. When people are in trouble they come to us because they know we can help.

EARLY RESCUE

We have to help before it's too late. If we don't intervene, these girls will be scarred for life. So we act as early as we can to protect and rescue girls who are on the very verge of enslavement.

95%

Girls born in the red-light district have a 95% chance of becoming enslaved.

RESCUED IN THE HIGH-RISK SLUMS

Through our Lighthouse Centers in the slums, we identify girls in danger of being enslaved and abused, and we step in to rescue them before they are exploited.

- >> A father was in the process of selling his 9- and 12-year-old daughters into the sex trade when their mother came to us, desperate to protect her girls.
- >> A father's trip to the red-light district brought AIDS into the home, killing both grandparents and orphaning the child. Thankfully we rescued her before predators could get to her.
- >> A baby girl was thrown in the garbage dump because she was a girl. Her grandparents rescued her, but couldn't care for her and came to a Lighthouse Center for help.

Rescued from the Red-Light District

Sajala's mom is a sex slave. But there's no childcare in the sex trade. So 3-year-old Sajala slept on the floor under the bed while her mom worked.

That's the harsh reality in the red-light district. Even worse, it's almost certain that Sajala would follow in her mother's footsteps.

When we discovered this desperate situation, we swung into action, worked hard to rescue Sajala and welcomed her into our family!

Today she's thriving. She's at the top of her class in school. It's a life she would never have known if she stayed in the brothel.

65%

Most of our daughters — 65% — were rescued by age 6 or younger.

Aftercare

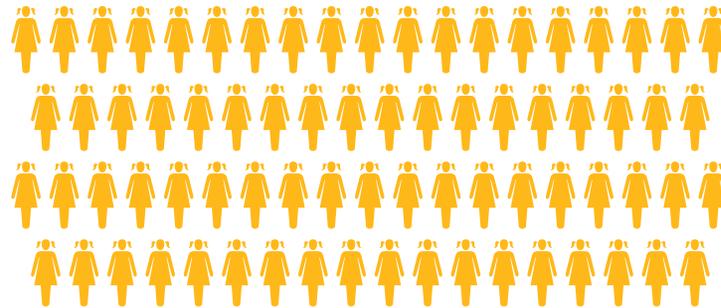

Each rescued girl becomes a daughter in our family. They are sisters to each other. Our house moms and dads become their parents and our other staff members are like aunts and uncles. They become family for life.

WELCOME TO THE FAMILY

The As Our Own approach changes everything. Seeing these girls as our daughters instead of orphans is at the core of who we are. From staffing to education, we want the best for our girls. It also changes how the girls see themselves. They're confident, optimistic and full of joy.

As a family we're always learning—house moms teaching daughters to cook and older sisters reading stories to younger ones.

Bela Tai

HOUSE MOM

Daughters learn so much from their mothers, and Bela Tai is one of our house moms with a mother's influence. She's been with us since the beginning, lives 24/7 with the girls and teaches them everything a mother would, from manners and responsibility to how to be good citizens, wives and mothers.

"The love of Bela Tai has made us who we are today."

OUR DAUGHTER PRIYAL,

Sammy Dada

HOUSE DAD

Sammy Dada is our family's academic coordinator and serves as the primary house dad. While house dads don't live at the home with the girls, Sammy organizes academics, and extracurricular activities during the day. His heart for the girls is evident. They call Sammy father and he truly lives up to the title.

Drawing henna tattoos, known as mehndi, is popular among Indian girls. Our daughters draw mehndi on each other and older sisters teach the younger ones.

EDUCATION

Education today unlocks possibilities for our daughters tomorrow. Education is one of the most critical tools in redefining their futures. So we're there to help them with tutors, study times and homework.

Our Daughter Mita

She's 17 and ranked #3 out of 35,000 students. She's the #1 female student in the state in her program.

Mature, shy, driven and prayerful—these are the words that come to mind when we think of our daughter Mita. She has a true gift of wise counsel and encouragement. She always looks to make the best of the resources at hand. One exception is that she does prefer nice clothes—she is our most fashion-conscious daughter.

She wants to become a software engineer and is currently working hard to pursue that dream. She eventually wants to get a master's degree in computer science and use her salary and position to take care of her younger sisters back home.

Mita's ambition is closely tied with her heart's desire to give back. We could not be more proud.

"I am very excited that my good grades are making my dream of becoming an engineer a reality."

Our Daughter Punita

She's 10 and our Math Olympiad champion. She placed in the top 1% in her school.

Punita is our strong, quiet leader. She's merciful and full of grace, a leader by example. She's humble in her leadership, not seeking the spotlight but giving others a chance.

She's always been strong in school and hates to miss a day. She really wants to do well in school. She hasn't decided what she wants to be when she grows up, but talks about being a nurse or a flight attendant. Recently she's been serving as a Marathi-English interpreter, something she started voluntarily.

Punita loves to dance, sing and play the guitar and keyboard. She used to be a reluctant performer, but she's gained confidence as she watches her sisters and practices all day before a performance.

Punita is maturing into a strong woman of integrity and we are so thrilled to be her family and support her along the way.

"I think I did well because I asked God for his help."

GIFTS & TALENTS

FOR LIFE

You may have heard of kids aging out of orphanages, but we do this for life. That's what family means. We protect and guide these girls into adulthood and beyond. Our college-aged daughters come home for Christmas break. We have five adult daughters who are married. Three have children of their own—our grandchildren!

Blackhawk Ministries hosts Gifts That Go each Christmas season to help the “least of these” around the world. In 2013 Blackhawk dedicated the campaign to As Our Own. More than $200,000 was collected during the four-week campaign.

Mission 1:8

Houston’s First Baptist Church seeks to serve others, share the gospel and expand God’s kingdom with their Mission 1:8 campaign. In 2013 they selected As Our Own to be a part of Mission 1:8 and gave a significant donation to support our family.

Nautique Boats

While education and donations are a lifeline for our work, it’s not the only support we receive. Correct Craft (maker of Nautique Boats) CEO Bill Yeargin helped us on the business side with strategic planning. He helped us look long term and develop our 5-year plan, strengthening our work for the future.

"The vision Ralph Borde and his team at As Our Own have for their children is groundbreaking, courageous and inspiring. For the past two years I have helped them with strategic planning, and their focus on excellence—in the care of their children and in their management of their organization—is exemplary. Then, after traveling to India and seeing their work firsthand, I have become even more appreciative of the role As Our Own is playing in the lives of the girls in their care; I am thrilled for Correct Craft and our subsidiary companies, Nautique Boats and Aktion Parks, to partner with them in this endeavor!" BILL YEARGIN, CEO, CORRECT CRAFT, ORLANDO

"God has given Ralph Borde and As Our Own a compelling vision to equip and engage the church in India to rescue vulnerable and orphan children, calling us to care for them as our very own daughters. Their strategy to engage the church and Christian leaders in India and the U.S. has created a culture of strong and effective kingdom partnership. The result is very high and excellent holistic care for the children. I am excited that we as a congregation get to be a part of this work!"
